

The image shows the interior of an airplane cabin with rows of seats. The seats have a grey and blue color scheme with the Eurowings logo on the headrests. The cabin is well-lit, and the overhead luggage bins are visible. The Eurowings logo is also visible on the wall panels and overhead bins.The image shows the interior of an airplane cabin with rows of seats. The seats have a grey and blue color scheme with the Eurowings logo on the headrests. The cabin is well-lit, and the overhead luggage bins are visible. The Eurowings logo is also visible on the wall panels and overhead bins.

Flight Attendant (m/f/diverse) Full-time and Part-time A320-Family with Eurowings Europe based in Vienna

Based on the current demand planning of Eurowings Europe, there will be no further Assessment Center appointments for Flight Attendants for Vienna and Palma de Mallorca in the next few months.

We will be in touch as soon as new assessment appointments are available.

As a Flight Attendant (m/f/diverse) with Eurowings, you will be employed on short and medium-haul flights all over Europe. Aboard our modern A320, you carry responsibility for the safety of our passengers, the cleaning and preparation of the cabin, as well as for the execution of the on-board service.

You are spontaneous, open-minded, responsible and you like to work in a team? You enjoy working in service and the contact with passengers brings you pleasure? Shift work presents a positive challenge to you? Then you might be the person we are looking for!

Our conditions of employment:

- A permanent working contract
- High quality flight attendant training over about 6 weeks
- A young and dynamic team and a great working environment within a growing start-up airline
- Development opportunities and the chance of promotion after one year already
- Unlimited attractive benefits such as special fares for flight tickets and hotel discounts
- 10 percent commission of on-board sales
- Entry level salary Flight Attendants at the bases VIE and SZG: 23800 € per year, payable in 14 payments

Qualifications and Requirements:

- Excellent knowledge of English (minimum B2 level). German skills are desired.
- A-levels, high school certificate or flying/gastronomic experience
- Valid passport without restrictions
- EU citizenship, for non-EU-citizens: residence and work permit
- Minimum height: 1,60m
- Minimum age: 18 years
- Good swimming skills
- Excellent general health condition and able to pass a medical assessment
- Visual acuity +/- 5 dioptries
- A high focus on service orientation
- Well-groomed appearance and confident behavior
- Capacity for teamwork, desire for sociability
- Good manners and a charming and outgoing personality
- Great commitment and the ability to work under pressure
- Availability by phone and internet access

Eurowings

Eurowings

If you have already applied as a Flight Attendant within the Eurowings (Germanwings GmbH, Eurowings GmbH, Eurowings Europe GmbH or Luftfahrtgesellschaft Walter mbH) and have been rejected please be aware that you can only apply again after 12 months.

About Eurowings:

Eurowings is the low-cost airline of Lufthansa Group, making it part of the world's largest aviation group. With a rapidly growing fleet of currently 185 aircraft, Eurowings specializes in affordable non-stop flights within Europe. The German carrier offers flights to over 210 destinations in over 50 countries around the world, making it Europe's third-largest low-cost airline. Last year, the company carried over 40 million passengers for the first time and expanded its staff to around 10,000 employees. At present, Eurowings encompasses the following flight operators Eurowings GmbH, Eurowings Europe GmbH (Vienna, Palma et al.), Germanwings GmbH, Brussels Airlines and Luftfahrtgesellschaft Walter mbH, as well as the following companies Eurowings Aviation GmbH, Eurowings Technik GmbH and Eurowings Digital GmbH.